When freight on parcels sent by passenger train is not prepaid, 50 per cent. will be charged on delivery. Remittances should therefore include sufficient to cover cost of freight as well as cost of goods ordered.

Sometimes articles on which we do not pay carriage may be enclosed with goods on which we do pay carriage, providing the inclusion does not influence the weight so as to increase the cost of freight. If the enclosures of such goods add to the carriage, the extra amount must be paid by customer.

Returned goods should always have your name and address inside; and by separate post kindly send us a letter giving reason for return of goods.

We will exchange or refund cash provided the goods reach us in a saleable condition, carriage paid, and were not made to order.

Complaints of irregularity will always be courteously dealt with.

Letters marked "Private" are opened by one of the partners.

We take every care in packing China and Glassware for the country, experienced packers only being employed, but we take no risks for breakage caused by rough usage in transit.

The Model Grader

A Magazine Published by GRACE BROS. with the object of making us all Model Traders.

Vol. IV. No. 6.

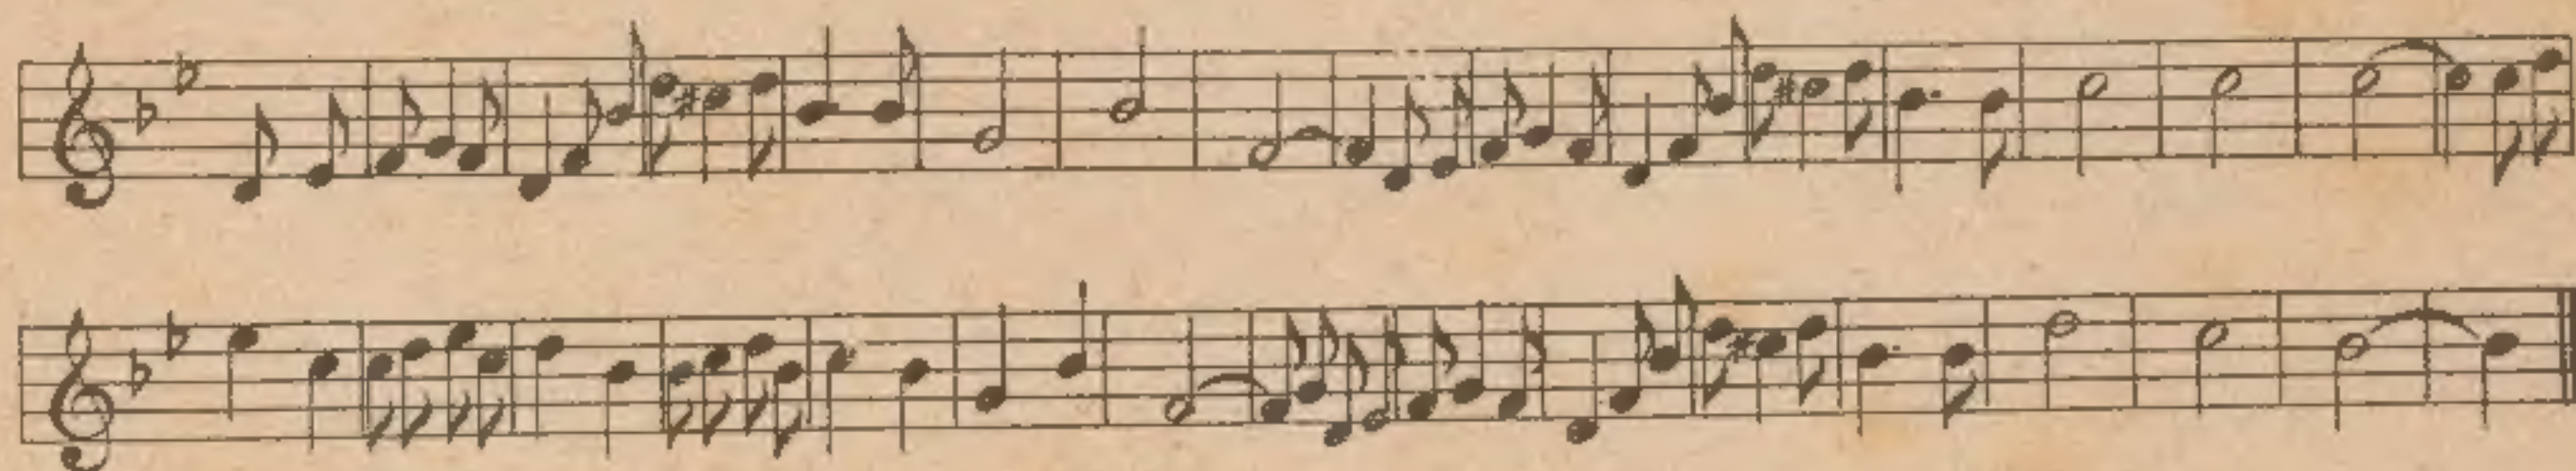

SYDNEY, N. S. W.

June, 1909.

Thoughts Worth While.

CLIMB, BOYS, CLIMB.

There's a little green patch on the top of the hill,
So Climb, Boys, Climb;
And it's there you can rest at your pleasure and will,
So Climb, Boys, Climb;
Tho' the way be dreary and your hearts grow weary,
It will all come right in time;
For there's a little green patch on the top of the hill,
So Climb, Boys, Climb.

This is the refrain of a song at the Pantomime "Jack and Jill," produced by J. C. Williamson. It is a good song, and if we had room we would give it in full, for it is just the advice to give to boys.

Tho' the way be dreary and your hearts grow weary
It will all come right in time.

Now, boys, when the way seems dreary get on to this song, learn it, sing it, and you will find the heart won't grow weary: you will leap to your feet and make another dash for the top of the hill; you will forget your trouble and your heart-ache. You will soon reach that little green spot. You won't sit down and curse your luck, but harden your muscles, grit your teeth, and climb.

How does Longfellow put it:—

We have not wings, we cannot soar,
But we have feet to scale and climb
By slow degrees, by more and more
The cloudy summit of our time.

Music published by permission of
W. J. Deane and Son, 496 George-street, Sydney.

THE EDITOR WISHES TO ANNOUNCE

Once more the sale is with us, and with the close of a splendid season we have a better assortment than ever to place before our customers.

The following pages will tell you all you desire.

We draw particular attention to the departure we have made in connection with our "Grocery By Mail" Department.

It is not possible for us to reduce the prices, but we are making a special offer to pay freight on all orders of 50s. or over. (See Price List).

We are still keeping to the motto "The best we will have or we will have none," so that it is a genuine and good concession we give by paying freight.

We trust our customers will bear with us a little during the sale time if their parcels are late, for it is sometimes impossible for us to keep up to our usual prompt method of despatch. But if you do not receive your order within a week of the acknowledgement we would ask you to write to us at once.

COMPETITIONS.

Suggestions.

Each month we offer a prize for the best suggestion for improvement of any branch of the store service. These suggestions are considered by the Improvement Committee, and the prizes are awarded by it. There are also two special prizes, which means there are three prizes to compete for.

1.—A Monthly Prize of 5/-.

For the best suggestion received in the month.

2.—A Special Prize of 10/-.

For the man who sends in the most suggestions over a period of six months, even though he wins no other prize.

3.—A Special Prize of £1.

For the best suggestion received in the six months.

Remember one man can win every prize—that is, six prizes of 5s., one of 10s., one of £1, or in all £3,—and we think if one man were to win the whole lot he would certainly be getting more wages at the end of the six months than at the beginning.

Come on, boys! Get some ginger into your make-up, and try for these prizes.

Leave your suggestions in the suggestion box at employees' entrance.

ARTICLES OF MANUFACTURE.

This is another competition we would like to see well supported. For there are many articles in everyday use of which the process of manufacture could be interestingly written, and it is not bad pay to get 10s. for a couple of hours' writing after tea.

Each month we offer a prize of 10s for the best article dealing with the manufacture of any goods stocked by the Model Store. Articles to be sent in to the Editor, written on one side of the paper only.

The prize this month is awarded to Mr. Stevens for his article on "How the Electric Bulb Lamp is Made," and we would like to see a good number of competitors each month.

CHESTNUTS—OLD AND NEW.

The chestnuts that we have been receiving are mostly old, but still it is a pleasure to see our last page so well supported. We give a prize of 2s. 6d for the two best jokes submitted each month.

COOKERY HINTS.

We would be pleased to receive from our country customers contributions for this page of any cookery hints which they may have found useful and good. The contribution should be written on one side of the paper only, and each one should be kept separate. We also invite contributions to our "Household Hints" page in the same way. In fact, we would like these two pages to be entirely run by our country customers.

DO YOU WISH TO RECEIVE THE "MODEL TRADER" REGULARLY?

This issue of the "Model Trader" goes to every one of our customers, but our regular issues we have found it impossible to send regularly to every customer, for we can have only a certain number available for distribution. We are, however, making a special list for customers who wish to get the "Model Trader" every month as issued, as follows:—

We send it to all customers who will send 2s 6d to cover postage, and this 2s 6d will be placed to the credit of the customer, and used in the first order sent in. The depositing of this 2s 6d will ensure the "Model Trader" being sent regularly to you for 12 months. Customers sending this amount in please address the letter to the Editor, and mark the envelope "Subscriber."

We only ask this 2s 6d to be sent as a deposit, and so as to be sure you will use the "Model Trader."

To the customers who keep the "Model Trader" until the volume is complete, and send each issue to us intact in December next, we will bind them into an attractive book free of charge.

WILL YOU WRITE US A LETTER?

A suggestion was made last month to give a Free Paper Pattern with each issue of the "Model Trader." The pattern would be either a Blouse, a Camisole, a Costume, or Child's Garment each month.

The pattern would be designed by the head of the department concerned, and would, therefore, be original and up-to-date in design and exclusive in circulation; that is, only GRACE BROS.' customers would receive it.

Now, this is going to cost us a fair sum each month, but we do not mind the expense if our customers would appreciate the addition.

Will you write and tell us whether you would like this addition to be made to the "Model Trader"? A post card addressed to the Editor will be greatly appreciated.

Groceries by Mail.

ONLY ORDERS RECEIVED BY POST ARE ATTENDED TO.

A SPECIAL INDUCEMENT—FREIGHT PAID DURING SALE.

To popularise this Department GRACE BROS. will pay freight on Grocery Orders to the value of £2/10/- or over. This means a direct loss to us during Sale, but we are counting the money spent in way as the cost of advertising the Department.

We are so sure of the quality of the groceries supplied by us that if you send us one order this time that you will always do so.

We have always said—

“THE BEST WE WILL HAVE OR WE WILL HAVE NONE,”

and we intend to spend enough in freights to prove to our thousands of customers that it is so.

The lines are, therefore, not reduced, for the prices are already down as low as possible. Send a trial order of £2/10/- with your Drapery order, and see the splendid fresh goods you will get.

On all Grocery Orders to Value of £2/10/- or over—during Sale only—GRACE BROS. will pay freight to the nearest Railway Station or Wharf.

LESLIE'S BAKING POWDER.

It is Quality that brings true and lasting Success. Leslie's Baking Powder has often enough substantiated its claim of being the Baking Powder of Quality, notably by winning Gold Medal at Chicago World's Fair, 1893, and Gold Medal at Christchurch (N.Z.).

But as further proof that this Quality is neither a pretence nor a "back number," Leslie's Baking Powder has taken First and Special Prizes at Sydney Show since first exhibited (1905).

If you want additional proof that Leslie's is the Baking Powder to use, you have it in the light, dainty, and tasty cakes it helps to produce.

About Paint.

The most important point is its drying. What is more annoying than to find your work getting covered with dust and flies through the paint being too slow in drying? Your share is to see that the surface to be painted is free from dirt and quite clean, our share to supply you with a paint that will dry all the way under proper conditions. Such a paint we have in "Thistle" Brand.

HELPFUL FRIENDS.

How differently we are affected by different people !

One stimulates your thought, quickens your faculties, sharpens your intellect, opens the floodgates of language and sentiment, while another damps your enthusiasm, closes the door of expansion, and chills you to the very centre of your being.

Some people act like a tonic or an invigorating and refreshing breeze. They make us feel like new beings. Under the inspiration of their presence we can say and do things which it would be impossible for us to say and do under different conditions. From others emanates an atmosphere which paralyses thought, dwarfs expression, and destroys naturalness.

To grow, we must cultivate the society of those who stimulate us along the line of higher endeavour, who open up visions to our inner eyes, who make us long to be more, to know more, and to do more, who make us conscious of greater powers, make us believe more firmly in ourselves, and arouse in us a determination to do the very best of which we are capable.

Those who appreciate the good in you and help to build up instead of destroying your self-confidence double your power of accomplishment.

We can never forget those who help us to unfold our possibilities. The discouraged pupil never forgets the teacher who sees in him that which his parents and other friends failed to see ; and nothing else so spurs him on to make the most of himself as his desire not to disappoint the teacher who has confidence in his ability to do something when no one else believed in him.

Beecher said he was never the same man again after he had read Ruskin. No one is ever the same again who has been touched by one of those godlike natures which stir the divinity inherent in every soul and give a true glimpse of the real self with all its manifold possibilities.

Fortunate is the man all through life who in the formative period of his youth had one broad-minded, whole-souled, optimistic friend. His soul-vision will be clear and the things of his life will be things worth while. Storms may blow his ship out of its course, but his compass stands true and the rudder steady, and the ship will ride safe home.

More fortunate still is he who remembers that the formative period of his life never ends, and always selects friends who direct his thoughts and ideals upwards, never downwards.

And what our friends can do for us in this respect we can do for them.

The Improved Broadway Drop-Head Sewing Machine.

The New Shipment of Broadways just to hand all are fitted with the most modern improvements.

Just in time for Sale—We offer them at the Special Sale Price, £4 15 - each.

Read these particulars of the New Machines :—

The natural and vigorous demand for a sewing machine of the highest grade and finish, but in no sense "cheap," have always been important and satisfactory elements in our line, and we now offer the Improved Broadway, a machine which is in every respect and particular the very best popular priced sewing machine ever produced. It is the first and only machine at its price to be equipped with positive take-up, disc tensions, automatic tension release, and certain other up-to-date features. All of the essential working parts are thoroughly hardened, and everything about the machine is given a first class finish, both mechanically and ornamentally.

THE HEAD is very handsome and pleasing in appearance, being carefully proportioned and highly finished in polished black enamel and then beautifully decorated in an elaborate design worked out in gold and bright colours; also fitted with a handsome medallion and nickelled and polished face plate. All of the working parts, (screws, plates, levers, etc.), are nickel-plated and highly polished.

THE BED PLATE is entirely free from obstructions of any kind, and sets into a recess in the machine table, bringing the surfaces flush, thus greatly improving the appearance and facilitating the handling of the work. It is $14\frac{3}{4}$ x $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches in size.

THE ARM is large and perfectly proportioned. It has a clear space underneath of $5\frac{1}{2}$ x $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches, permitting the convenient handling of large and bulky work.

THE NEEDLE BAR is round, accurately finished and thoroughly hardened. This round form of needle bar insures absolutely uniform wear at all points, perfect lubrication and equal rigidity in every direction.

THE NEEDLE is straight, short and strong. It is made with an enlarged shank flattened on one side, thus ensuring perfect setting of the needle. It is held in place by a patented needle clamp, which locks it securely, while also permitting ready removal.

THE TAKE-UP is of new design, absolutely positive and automatic. It is controlled by a cam on the main shaft, and will handle correctly any size or kind of thread or silk in a perfect manner on all kinds of goods.

THE TENSION is of the disc type. It is located on the front edge of the face plate in a most convenient position. It is of great delicacy of adjustment, and is absolutely positive and simple in its operation.

THE AUTOMATIC TENSION RELEASE is a new special feature of value. With it the action of operating the presser bar lifter automatically releases the tension. Then, whenever the presser foot is lifted the work may be easily removed without injury to the needle, and without any attention on the part of the operator.

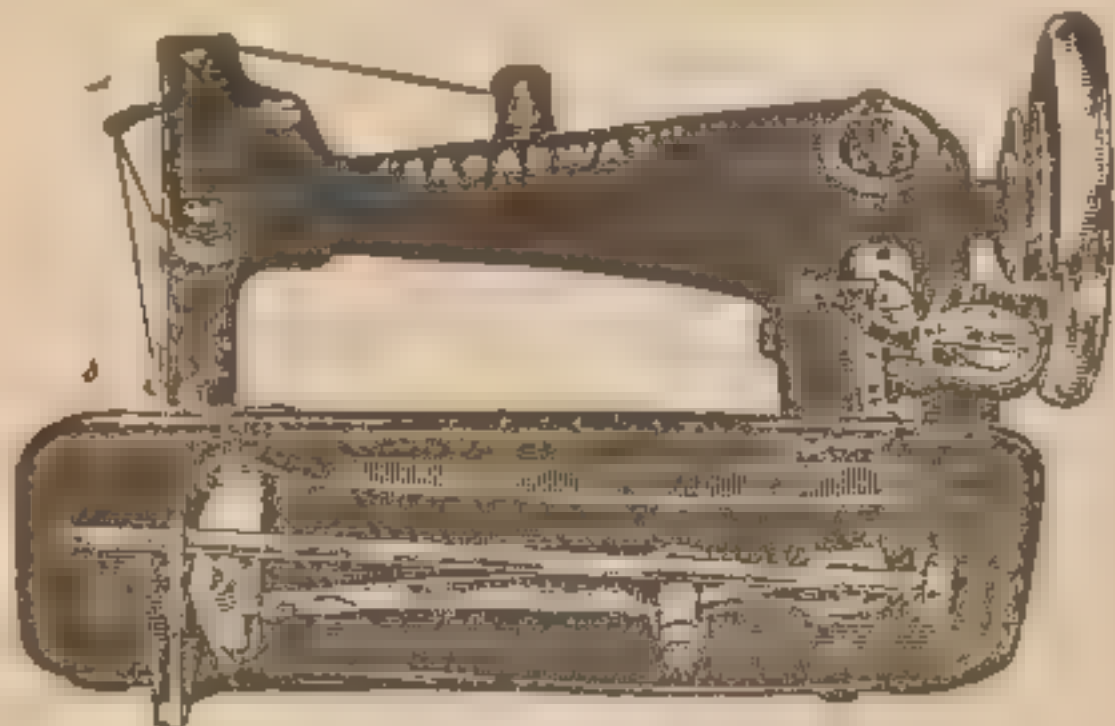

Illustration showing the IMPROVED BROADWAY Head.

Note particularly the Positive Take-up, the Disc Tension, and the simplicity of the Underneath Working Parts.

Sale Price,
£4 15s.

This illustration shows how the Machine drops into a recess, making the Machine stand into an attractive little table.

THE STITCH REGULATOR is situated on the front of the upright arm in a most convenient position. It is provided with an index showing just what length of stitch the machine is making at all times.

THE AUTOMATIC BOBBIN WINDER is a very important feature. With it the bobbins are wound almost as finely as a spool of thread. The winder is entirely automatic in its action, and is wholly free from springs or other uncertain devices.

THE FEED is one of the greatest specialities of the IMPROVED BROADWAY machine. It is double and extends on both sides of the needle. It has a perfect four motion movement, and will handle all grades of work with certainty and accuracy under all conditions. There are absolutely no springs in the feed of these machines.

THE HAND WHEEL is of best design, and finished with nickelled and polished rim. It is equipped with a positive releasing device, by means of which the operator, by merely rotating a milled edge screw, entirely releases the hand wheel from the working parts of the machine, thus permitting the winding of the bobbin at any time, even without removing any unfinished work which may be in the machine.

THE SHUTTLE is large size, cylindrical in form, strictly self threading, and is made of the finest tool steel, thoroughly hardened and highly polished. The shuttle carrier is provided with a patented spring lining, which balances and holds the shuttle securely, and entirely obviates all rattling and the uncertain action so noticeable in other machines.

ALL BEARINGS AND WORKING PARTS are hardened through and through and finished in a very accurate manner.

THE WOODWORK is of pleasing design, with the bent cover and skeleton drawer cases. It is furnished in oak finish only. The centre drawer is of the sliding pattern of full length, and is lined with velvet to receive the various attachments. The curved front drophead stand is of new and very superior design, and of unusual strength and beauty.

THE STAND is made and finished in a good and substantial manner throughout. It is furnished with oil cups to prevent soiling the floor on which it rests, and the treadle and fly wheel are both hung on adjustable steel centres.

THE ATTACHMENTS, supplied without extra charge, are of the latest design, and constructed throughout of the best steel, polished and nickel-plated, and includes the following: Ruffler, Tucker, Binder, Braider, Four Hemmers of Assorted Widths, Quilter, Thread Cutter, Foot Hemmer and Feller.

THE ACCESSORIES include Twelve Needles, Six Bobbins, Oil Can filled with Oil, Large and Small Screw Drivers, Sewing Guide.

The IMPROVED BROADWAY is guaranteed for TEN YEARS against breakage from manifest defects.

BUSINESS BUILDING A SCIENCE.

The business man is daily gaining ground in public appreciation. The old idea that trade and commerce were degrading and unworthy of the brightest intellects is gradually dying out. There can be just as much dignity and honour in conducting a business as in practising a profession. No doubt the reputation for cheating and trickery that was attached to traders as a class was deserved, for the old fashioned way was to make the best bargain possible, and lies and subterfuge were considered quite permissible, so long as a good profit could be shown; in fact, old writers used the term "bilking board" for the shopkeeper's counter. Now bilking is an old English word for cheating, so we can quite understand why trade was tabooed by the educated classes.

But what a gulf there is between the old methods of shop-keeping and the new methods of merchandising. In the old days goods were marked in private figures, and the shop-keeper asked the highest price he thought he could get. Even within the memory of some of our old tradesmen it was considered good business to pick out a country customer, and sell goods at a higher price than he was prepared to take from a regular customer. A system was in vogue by which the salesman who got more for an article than its fair price was rewarded with a bonus. No wonder then that haggling over a price would be carried on for hours, and the buyer and seller would pit their wits against each other, each trying to best his opponent.

Even now there can be found shops that have no fixed price, but they are being gradually superseded by the establishments which have adopted the modern methods. A business that is built on the solid rock of popular confidence has no place for tricks of trade. There are many clever devices for attracting trade that seem to answer the purpose, but to us they appear to savor of the "cheap jack," although at first sight they seem innocent enough. Take the coupon idea—a genuine Yankee scheme to make money by coming between the storekeeper and the public; the storekeeper is attracted because he expects to draw trade from his competitor by the inducements of gifts. The more coupons the bigger gift; but when all is said and done, who pays?

Then we have time payment offerings, and it is generally known that the T.P. man's cheques will be accepted in most of the shops in Sydney. We do not say this is not perfectly legitimate; in fact, we would accept time payment cheques ourselves if—and it is a big if—an if that no time payment man has got over. We say we would accept a time payment man's cheque if he would not charge us any commission, but every one who has asked us to accept his cheques has stipulated for a commission; some for five, but most for ten per cent. Our only answer to one and all is, "not one cent.," for, after all, who pays? You, Mr. Customer. You pay every time. We may sell at the old prices for a week or a month, but we could not stay in business if we did not charge on to the goods all the costs of collecting and distributing these goods, and that 10 per cent. commission is a charge on the goods. If we could afford to give 10 per cent. off the prices of our goods, ought we not to give it to those who pay? Why should anyone charge you more than they charge the T.P. man. You who always pay cash should remember this: That those who can afford to give a discount of 10 per cent. to other people should be able to allow it to you.

Building up a business by any means but honest equal treatment to all cannot be permanently successful. To gain and maintain the confidence of the community must be our chief aim, and to this end we will devote all our efforts and all our energies. To gain the faith of the public we must zealously guard against misrepresentation; no word we utter or deed we do can be recalled. It is therefore imperative that truth must be strictly maintained. When the public find an institution that is always to be relied on they grow attached to it; their confidence is won, and the first step in business building is well made. To keep that confidence bright is the problem that confronts the builders; to justify the public faith they must be strong to adhere to the great principle of truth. There must be no exaggeration in advertisement; there must be no failure of promises, no misleading statements; for the confidence that has taken so much to gain will be lost by one unfair action.

Here at the Model Store we make our 12 Days' Sale our great business builder, and we should esteem it as a friendly act if any of our customers will advise us of any fault they may find in our service.

Our 12 Days' Sale will commence on July 3rd, and during that time we shall re-mark the majority of our immense stocks, so that in whatever department you may go you will find genuine reductions laid out for your inspection. All are cordially invited.

THE CHIEF TALKS.

In life's small things be resolute and great

To keep thy muscles trained; know'st thou when Fate

Thy measure takes, or when she'll say to thee,

I find thee worthy; do this deed for me.—Lowell.

Now, my friends, keep your muscles trained. This advice is perhaps superfluous to our football enthusiasts, for I see they work hard to get into good condition for their games. They take long runs, practise hard kicking, tackling, passing, scrummaging, and combination play, and it is good to see earnestness and thoroughness, although it is only play; for a boy or man who takes only a listless interest in his sport will seldom put enthusiasm into his work. A boy may be a good worker and not care for games; he may be an enthusiastic tradesman, and have no wish to join a football club. He reserves his energies for business, and if he works with his heart as well as with his head and his hands, he will come out on top. Nothing can stop him; but boys will be boys, and a little play is good for all. The mischief comes when play becomes the master, when everything in life is sacrificed to pleasure. What a sorry sight it is to see bright prospects sacrificed to gain the fickle plaudits of a crowd of spectators at a cricket or football match—to-day the hero of the hour, to-morrow the hanger-on of the sporting fraternity. How many heads have been turned by success at sport?

How many young men have lived to curse the day that made them famous at a game. It is lack of discipline that causes the young man to lose his head and fancy himself a king above his fellows. If some one could only convince him that the cheers that ring in his ears to-day will be turned to jeers when he gets a little older and still hangs on to a position he cannot fill. You boys who now get praised for your prowess at sport discipline your mind so that you can lay aside your sport without a pang, and take up your life's duties like a man; then your training, your strength, and your health will fit you to take up that work which fate has mapped out for you. It is there you will reap the benefit of those qualities your games have cultivated. Your grit and courage will get a trial as great as any game you played. Your stamina and muscles will have to stand the strain. Your steadiness of hand, your sureness of eye, and your quickness of decision will all be wanted when life's real work begins.

How the Electric Bulb Lamp is Made.

(Adapted from the Strand Magazine, 1904.)

In this article I will endeavour to explain how the small lamp which helps so much to light the "Model Store" is made. It all looks very simple, as it is fixed up on the end of a fine wire cable, but, like many other articles, is not so easily constructed as one imagines. It practically consists of a small glass tube or globe, bulged and slightly pointed; a looped filament with tips of platinum, and a cup of brass and vitrite. Of course, the chief difficulty arises in connection with the tiny thread that is called upon to bear the great heat needed to produce the light. By many it is known as the "inside wire," but it really comes from the harmless fibre of the cotton plant, which instead of being made into calico, (near or in Manchester), "passes through about 45 different processes in a lamp factory. First of all a handful of fine cotton wool is put into a vat containing chloride of zinc. When sufficiently soaked it is placed in spirit, which is held in tall glass jars. To get it into this spirit it is passed through nozzles of varying degrees of fineness, and looks uncommonly like vermicelli after the process. The spirit has the effect of hardening it, but about four days are occupied in doing so. Then another twenty-four are required to wash off all traces of the chemicals, after which the coils are wound on to large revolving 'drums. Each drum holds a length of filament which would stretch for half a mile or so. Of course, in the washing and drying process considerable shrinkage occurs, and the finer threads bear a resemblance to silk horsehair. For lamps of different candle-power varying thicknesses of filament are of course necessary. The thread has now to undergo the ordeal by fire by way of preparation for the far worse ordeal of electrocution. Having been cut into lengths it is wound—being still pliable—on to "formers," which give the necessary loop which is observed in every lamp. When filled the formers are snugly packed in crucibles containing graphite, and borne away to be baked for twenty-four hours in ovens of various temperatures. On emerging the filament is black and will never lose its shape. The two ends are now mounted on platinum wires, an operation which is left to the fair sex, as it is of such a delicate nature. A machine cuts the platinum wire into strips of the length required, leaving at the end of each piece a tiny tube or socket, into which the hairlike filament is placed, and then made fast with a pinch of the tweezers. The joint between the platinum and the filament is now ready to be put into a small tank of hydro-carbon to establish a perfect electrical and mechanical connection. When it is lowered into the fluid an electric current is switched on, and the platinum ends becoming quite hot the carbon is deposited on the joints, therefore making the connection, before mentioned. The joint having been perfected it is still necessary to make the filament of even electrical resistance throughout, and also reduce that resistance to the proper point. It is therefore passed to the flashing room and placed under the glass receiver of an air pump. The air having been exhausted a hydro-carbon is introduced and the current switched on, causing the filament to become incandescent and to absorb the surrounding carbon. The thin places get hotter than the rest, and carbon is more rapidly deposited on them, so that the roughness is soon removed. The thread is now ready for enclosure in the glass bulbs. In the glass blowing department each man has a revolving fire clay stand each holding sixteen bulbs. Taking a bulb from the box in which it arrived from the glass foundry, the operator melts it at the nipple by means of a gas jet, and seals on a tube of glass. This is handy later on for exhausting the air. The bulb is now opened at the other end to enable the filament to be passed in, after which it is closed with only the platinum wires projecting out. The glass is tightly pinched round these to make sure no air can get in afterwards, and two small projections are also made to secure the cap later. Another difficulty now presents itself and that is the "Vacuum." To get a perfect light it is essential to exclude all air from the bulb. A mechanical pump is set to work to exhaust the air, the bulb being attached to the tubes before mentioned. After that process there is still a lot of air left, and it is attached to a mercury pump for about twenty minutes to obtain a still finer state of exhaustion. After that the lamp is subjected to a strong current, about 50 per cent. stronger than it will be ever called upon to bear, and this causes any remaining gases to be driven from the filaments. Next they are conveyed to a light measuring room, where by means of prisms, etc, the correct candle-power and consumption of each is easily measured. They are now ready to be capped. This is the last process, excepting two or three inspections to ensure they are in good condition when leaving the factory. For lamps of low voltage the caps are generally brass; but vitrite is provided for lamps of high voltage.

GRACE BROS., THE MODEL STORE, BROADWAY, SYDNEY.

Our Cover Design.

We rather pride ourselves on this issue of the "Model Trader," for, when it is analysed, it will be seen that to issue this book taxes the resources of a very large printing establishment.

Firstly, if the whole issue were stacked into nine separate piles, each of the nine stacks would be about ten feet higher than the globe which surmounts the "Model Store" at Broadway. This globe is 117 feet from the roadway, and the total height of the whole of our books would be over 1,100 feet high.

The number of sheets of paper used to print this issue is 400,000 sheets, and each of these sheets measures 40 inches by 30 inches, so that if every sheet of paper were laid side by side it would cover a paddock over 75 acres in size.

If only one machine were used to print this book it would take over five weeks to print, and then the machine would have to work all day and night and Sundays without a stop.

However, as our printers have a large plant with which to handle this work, it will take them only three weeks to print it, and then they will not have to work on Sundays.

After the book is printed there comes the operation of folding, which is done by a special machine which folds each sheet into 32 pages, but which has to be assisted by a staff of folders, who work nearly as quickly as the machine. If one machine were to do this work it would take just three weeks to complete.

After this comes the collecting and binding; the first is done by girls, and the second by machines worked by electricity.

The book is then cut by special guillotines, and is then ready to be wrapped for the post.

When it is considered that the weight of the paper used in this book totals up to nearly 25 tons, and all the metal used in printing to nearly 5 tons, it will be seen that such a book as the "Model Trader" requires much care and thought on the part of all concerned.

GRACE BROS.' object in printing such a large issue is to give every one of our country customers and a large number of our city customers the opportunity of making a selection from the large assortment of bargains which are offered.

Country customers can rely on receiving the very best attention to all their orders, and GRACE BROS. will at all times look into any complaint made regarding lack of attention in any way.

We look to our customers to tell us when we do not please them, for it has been our constant endeavour to keep faith with the public.

May we ask our customers to help us in every way during this sale. Send your order as early as possible, and we will endeavour to save delay; but if no receipt is sent for cash advise us at once. After you have received an acknowledgment allow a few days, and if by then you have received no further advice write us and we will make instant enquiry. We shall execute all orders in strict rotation, and although during the rush of sale a day or two may elapse before we can despatch the goods, we shall allow no unnecessary delay.

INSIGHT.

Love lends me eyes;
Your beauty grows
Before me, like some lovely rose
Unfolding slowly in the sun;
Or, as when day is but begun
One watches the sun rise.
Love lends me eyes;
A thousand ways
I find afresh in you to praise,
And wonder, as I con them o'er,
How I could miss them all before
Love lent me eyes!

—S. G. DUNN

THOSE WHO FAIL.

There are songs enough for the hero
Who dwells on the heights of fame,
I sing for the disappointed—
For those who missed their aim.

For those whose spirit comrades
Have missed them on the way
I sing, with a heart o'erflowing,
This minor strain to-day.

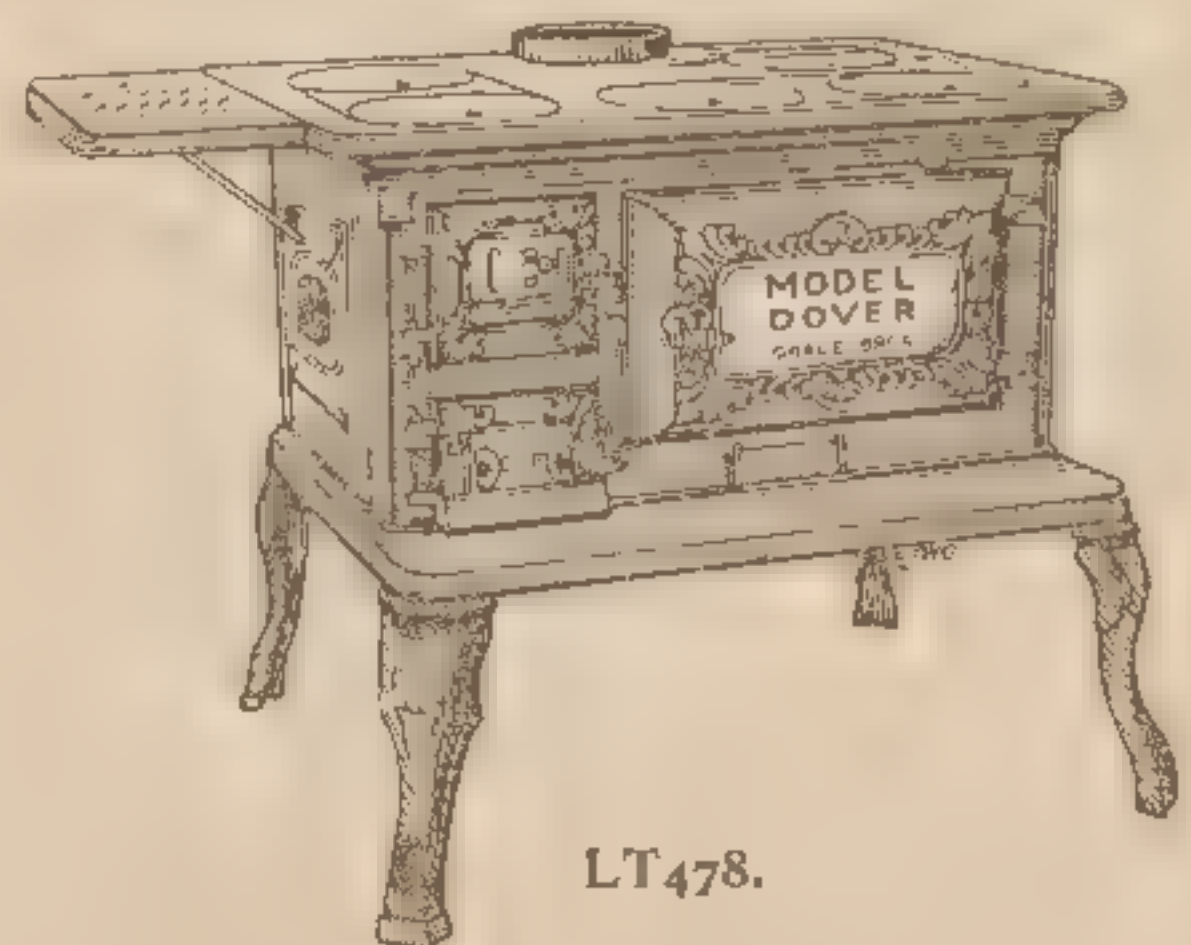

And I know the solar system
Must somewhere keep in space,
A prize for that spent runner
Who barely lost the race.

For the plan would be imperfect
Unless it held some sphere
That paid for the foil and talent
And love that are wasted there.

We would like to draw the attention of our Customers to the new Hair Restorer, "Eukosma," prepared from the original recipe of Dr. Carl Fischer, by his nephew, Pierre Bonnet. It is invaluable for promoting the Growth of the Hair, it is a specific for the Eradication of Scurf, which is the principal cause of the Hair falling off and getting thin ; it is a First-class Tonic, strengthening the Roots of the Hair, and thereby inducing a Vigorous Growth. It will not make the Hair grow where the Hair has fallen off with the Roots, but will stimulate the Skin of the Head, and if there are any Roots left, will so strengthen them that the Hair will grow Thicker and Stronger. There are two numbers, No. 1 for Dry Hair, No. 2 for Moist. When ordering, please mention which one is required. The price is 2/6; by post, 3/3. When using "Eukosma" be sure to rub it well in with the fingers into the Scalp in the morning. Special sale price, 2/- ; posted, 2/9.

GRACE BROS., THE MODEL STORE, BROADWAY, SYDNEY.

CAN superfluous hairs on the face be removed? The question is a serious one nowadays, when as many thousands of women are anxious to dispense with unwelcome hair on the chin and upper lip as there are thousands of men who lament the early disappearance of "epidermal appendages" from the crown of their heads. In some countries a slight moustache is supposed to enhance a pretty woman's looks, but in this country any visible indication of such an ornament brings a good deal of annoyance in its train. All the same, many girls make themselves unnecessarily miserable because of the presence of a few hairs, which are, in reality, hardly noticeable. In these cases the wisest thing is to leave them alone, because there is always some risk that interference will in the end stimulate the growth of hair. Where there is a tendency to growth of hair on the face, girls should guard against excessive use of face creams, and greasy preparations generally, on the skin. Women nowadays are far more free from wrinkles than our grandmothers, but at the same time, it would appear as if superfluous hair on the face is more prevalent than a generation or two ago. And both these facts might be traced to the more general use of face creams for the prevention of wrinkles. And now as to the removal of superfluous hair!

DEPILATORIES

are a great deal used in the East, but there are two great drawbacks to be considered. In the first place, the effect is merely temporary, and secondly, they frequently leave scars and ulcers behind them, which are, if anything, more unsightly than even a strong growth of hair.

They generally consist of sulphide of calcium or barium diluted by such a substance as oxide of zinc. Their action is due to the fact that these sulphides can dissolve a substance called keratin, and the keratin of the hair is more easily dissolved than the keratin of the skin. But it can be readily recognised that if they are used a little bit too strong or left for too long in contact with the skin they will act on the keratin of the skin, with the result that a permanent scar is left behind. For those who like to use a chemical preparation in preference to electrolysis, an application which will bleach the hair and so make it less visible is much safer and more satisfactory. A bleaching agent can be used very well in the case of a growth of dark hair on the arms, for example. A lotion of peroxide of hydrogen is the best for this purpose. It can be applied by a small sponge or a piece of cotton wool, and it has to be used every week or so, when the bleaching effect wears off. Some people think that it makes the hair grow less freely, which is certainly an argument against using it for bleaching the hair of the head.

ELECTROLYSIS.

There is, however, only one certain method of removing superfluous hair, and that is by electrolysis. The "operation" consists in destroying the hair follicle with an electric needle, and although this method is a little tedious where there is a free growth of hair, it is the most satisfactory in the end. The fact that there is some risk of scars resulting when electrolysis is done carelessly is a strong argument in favour of going to a properly qualified medical person when having the hair removed by this method.

Lately X-rays have been used for the same purpose, but there is more risk connected with using the X-rays than with electrolysis. Where the growth of superfluous hair consists in a soft, downy growth in front of the ears or on the cheeks, it is much wiser to leave it entirely alone. In the case of a few hairs on the chin, as are often associated with a mole, the simplest thing is to pull them out with a pair of pincers. Of course they grow again in time, but they can always be removed when they become unduly prominent.

By Arrangement with the Proprietors of

GOODALL'S YORKSHIRE RELISH

Grace Bros. will give a splendid little Cookery Book, entitled "Good Things," to every one of our Customers who will send us in a wrapper torn from a bottle of their Yorkshire Relish.

This little book comprises 160 pages of matter, highly interesting to the housewife.

Everyone knows that Yorkshire Relish makes cold beef, cold mutton, and all cold meats delicious and appetising, but it is not so generally known that it lends a charm and variety to eggs and bacon, cold fried fish, kidneys, etc. There should be no waste in a house where Yorkshire Relish is—no heavy butcher's bills. Every scrap of cold meat and cold fish made appetising by it; but it must be Goodall's Yorkshire Relish—not a cheap substitute. Grace Bros. can supply it at the following prices:—

Small bottles, 6¼d.; large, 9d.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

In this column we will be pleased to publish Recipes which our Customers send us.

Write only on one side of the paper, and address correspondence to the Editor.

Cure for Corns.

Put several pearl buttons in an egg cup, and cover with lemon juice. The buttons will dissolve in a few hours, when the mixture is ready for use. Rub on every night.

Fire Extinguisher.

Take 10 lbs. of common salt, 5 lbs. of sal ammoniac (to be had of any druggist), $3\frac{1}{2}$ gallons of water. Mix, bottle for use, keep handy. In case of fire, one or two bottles thrown so as to break in the burning place will certainly extinguish it.

To Wash New Blankets.

Soak for some hours in cold water, to which three handfuls of salt have been added, wring well, and then you will have no difficulty in washing in the usual way. If they are washed right off in hot water the first time, it tends to set the sulphur in the blankets and turn them black.

Pudding Cloths.

Pudding cloths should never be washed with soap. Soak them in cold, then rinse in very hot water, then dry them in the open air if possible. Before using again, dip them in boiling water, wring tightly, and flour well.

To Wash Chamois Leather.

Soak the skins in 2 quarts of water to which 4 ozs. of liquid ammonia has been added. After twelve hours of this bath, rinse, and then wash in fairly hot water with Castile soap. Do not dry too quickly. If rubbed when dry they will be as new.

How to Give Children Castor Oil.

Take 1 cup of milk, 1 cup of treacle, 1 cup sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup castor oil, 1 teaspoonful of soda, two of ginger, a little salt, enough flour to make a stiff paste; roll out, cut into shapes and bake in a quick oven. One or two of these are as good as a dose of oil.—Sent in by Miss E. F. Richardson, "Lee Mount," Casino.

Eight Sale Specials in Tools.

The Values given by Grace Bros. in this section are so well known that we find it hard to make very large reductions on our Usual Prices.

BUT HERE ARE EIGHT REALLY SPECIAL OFFERS:—

No. 1 Special, the Yankee Spiral Ratchet Screw Driver. This splendid little tool is made for either right or left hand driving, or for drawing screws. It can be changed to a long driver, or short driver, as a ratchet each time. The ratchet pawls are very compact, and the friction is so slight as to be hardly felt. It is specially to be recommended over other screwdrivers on account of its general adaptability, strength, and durability. Price during Sale only, complete, with three sized bits, $\frac{5}{5}$ each.

No. 2 Special, Quaker City Hammer, No. 130. These well-known hammers will be cleared during the Sale for $\frac{1}{4}$ each.

No. 3 Special, Sargeants' Iron Block Plane, size 7in. long, with $1\frac{1}{4}$ in. blade. Complete, Special Price, $\frac{1}{10\frac{1}{2}}$.

No. 5 Special, as LT460, Fray Ratchet Brace, a tool with many advantages over the ordinary brace; can be used in places where a stationary brace cannot get. Prices during Sale, 10in. sweep, $\frac{2}{6}$; 12in. sweep, $\frac{3}{-}$.

New Picture Puzzles.

This Picture Puzzle tells of one of the great battles of the world. It is partly told by words and partly told by pictures. Can you read it? Begin with the text under the pictures, and when you come to a number refer to the corresponding picture above. In this way you will have the complete story. When you make out the puzzle write to us a list of the missing words.

THIS IS THE HISTORY OF THE BATTLE.
After (1) the city of Eretria the Persian (2) landed at (3). The Athenians were nerved to (4) efforts by the threatening (5). A fleet runner, Phidippides, was sent to beg (6) from (7). But this assistance was not at once (8). Without waiting for the Persians to (9), the 10,000 Greeks, under command of Miltiades, swept from the (10) of Pentelicus across the (11) of Marathon, and the Persians were driven with great slaughter to their (12), which lay at (13) in the harbour (14).

Two prizes will be given for the FIRST two correct answers received. All other answers will receive one point for each word that is correctly given. That is, eight points can be scored towards the six monthly Special Prizes.

RIDDLE-ME-REE.

My first is in dog, but not in cat;
My second is in mouse, but not in rat;
My third is in gnat, but not in fly;
My fourth is in smack, but not in cry;
My fifth is in men, but not in boy;
My sixth is in play, and also in toy;
And when you have read this riddle-me-ree,
The name of an animal you plainly should see.

NUMERICAL PUZZLE.

My 5, 3, 4 is an edge.
My 2, 3, 1, 8 is when fruit is at its best.
My 4, 6, 1, 8 is to be sad.
My 7, 3, 1 is to drink slowly.

My whole is a spring flower known to nearly all the readers of the "Model Trader."

Two prizes will be given for the FIRST correct answers received by the 20th July, 1909. Two points will be given to each correct answer towards the six monthly Special Prizes.

PRIZES FOR MARCH PUZZLES.

These have been awarded, but owing to lack of space we cannot publish the prize winners' names here. Look in the July number for the winners' names. The prizes awarded have been posted to the winners.

PROVIDED FOR.

In a obscure village in Rutland a labourer named H—, lost his wife. Whilst on her death-bed she implored of him never to marry again after she was gone; furthermore, should he do so, she would scratch through the ground and come back to the earth to punish him. The threat apparently had due effect for some months, the widower rejecting many tempting offers. After a time, however, the villagers got to whispering about H— being seen walking with a certain lass. Met one day by a relative of his wife, he was asked if there was any truth in the rumour that was spread about the village, to which he replied in the affirmative. "Noa fear of that, maun, I took care to 'ave her burried face down'ard, so the more she scratched the further she'll go down."

First Prize, 2s 6d. Sent in by Master A. Gold, Walli, via Mandurma.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

The old major of cavalry was the owner of bow-legs and a hot temper, he was moreover, an enthusiastic golfer. But he was still only fifty yards from his first tee with his fifth stroke. The new member had been waiting to play, and at last his patience gave out. "Fore!" he cried, and drove off. He had done better to wait a little longer. His ball scudded along the turf and rolled beneath the Major's legs. "Here you, sir, confound you," exclaimed the latter, hotly, "that is not golf, sir." "No, perhaps not," replied the new member, slowly and thoughtfully, "but its rattling good croquet."—"Tit-Bits." Second prize, 2s 6d. Sent in by Miss R. Proudfoot, c/o Mrs. Selk, Condobolin.

"I can't keep the visitors from coming up" said the office boy to the Editor. "When I say you're out, they don't believe me. They say they must see you." "Well," said the Editor, "just tell them that's what they all say. I don't care if you cheek them, but I must have quietness." That afternoon there called at the office a lady, she wanted to see the Editor, and the boy assured her that it was impossible. "But I must see him!" she protested, "I'm his wife!" "That's what they all say," replied the boy. And now a new boy is wanted there.—"Windsor Magazine."

Sent in by Hilda Leweel, 6 Rawson Street, Enmore.

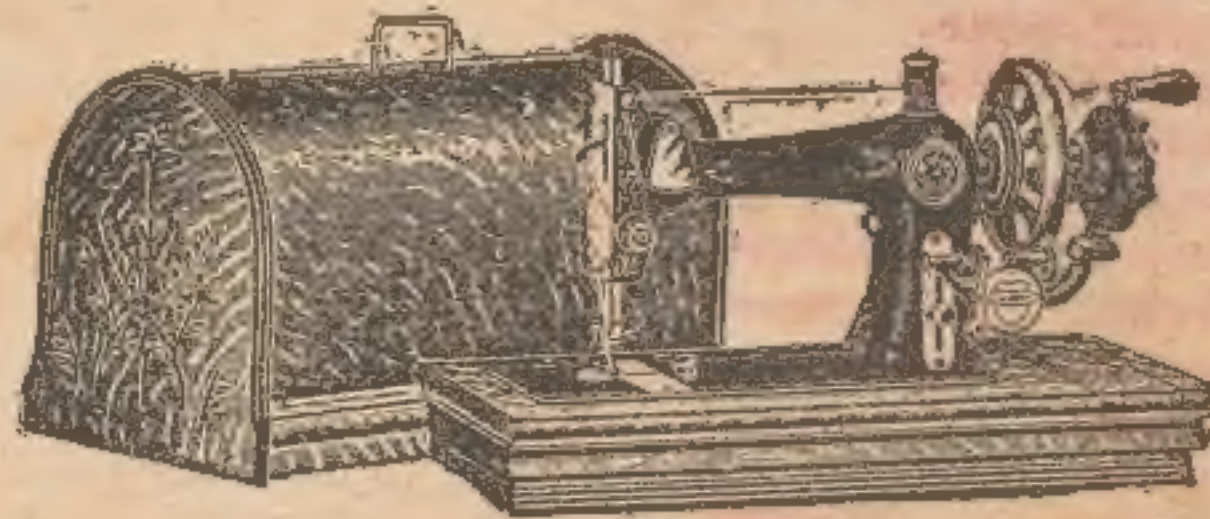

An Englishman, a Scotchman, and an Irishman, were having a discussion one day as to which country possessed the fastest trains. "Well," said the Englishman, "I've been in a train and it was going so fast that the telegraph poles appeared like hedges." The Scot said, "that's nothing; I've been in a train when the mile stones have appeared like tombstones." "Oh! by jaber, said the Irishman, I've passed a field of turnips, potatoes, parsley and cabbages, and then a pond of water, the train was going so fast that it all appeared like broth.—(Source unknown). Miss E. McGeodh, "Belle Vue," Urana.

A certain old gentleman's lack of "polish" is a sad trial to his eldest daughter. Not long ago the family were gathered in the library, one of the windows of which was open. "That air—" the father began, but was quickly interrupted. "Father, dear, don't say 'that air,' say 'that there,'" the daughter admonished. "Well, this ear—" he again attempted, but was as quickly brought to a halt. "Nor 'this 'ere,' 'this here' is correct," he was told. The old gentleman rose with an angry snort. "Look here, Mary," he said, "Of course I know you have been to school and all that, but I reckon I know what I want to say, an' I am going to say it. I believe I feel cold in this ear from that air, and I'm going to shut the window!"—"Windsor Magazine." Sent by Hilda Leweel, 6 Rawson Street, Enmore.
